All Saints Day

The 1st of November is known as "All Saints Day". It is traditionally a day when the lives of those people who have been recognised as "saints" are celebrated. Most people, if they think about saints at all, would think of the statues we see in some places with haloes around their heads! However, what the Bible describes as a "saint" is rather different.

The English word "saint" comes from the Latin word "sanctus" from where we get the word sanctified. 1 Corinthians 1 v 1 refers to "those who have been sanctified in Christ Jesus, saints by calling, with all who in every place call on the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, their Lord and ours". When we call on the name of Jesus in faith, He hears us – "WHOEVER WILL CALL ON THE NAME OF THE LORD WILL BE SAVED" (Romans 10 v 13). We are saved by confessing our sin and believing in Jesus. By dying on the cross for us he not only purchased our salvation but there is more! "We have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all" (Hebrews 10 v 10).

We have been sanctified and Jesus now recognises us as saints! So "All Saints Day" becomes for us a celebration of the fact that every born again believer in Jesus is a "saint"!

A Note from the Editor

Good Morning to YOU! May God bless you and keep you all of your days.

Yes, we must keep on praising Him and His Name always until that final day when we will meet our Creator and Lord face to face and then STILL keep on praising Him.

Praise lifts you up. Try it, it really does work.

Oh, Christmas Tree

Oh, Christmas tree
Oh, Christmas tree
How sturdy God has made thee
Oh, Christmas tree
Oh, Christmas tree
How sturdy God has made thee

Have you ever seen a floppy Christmas tree either in a Christmas tree lot or would you have a floppy tree in your home? I think not.

If God wanted us to see His creation of this wonderful tree which represents I think the everlasting joy that Christmas day brings. Why do I say this because Jesus IS perfect. The Christmas tree is strong, sturdy and upright and this is how we are to present ourselves to the world.

We are Gods representatives in this world not walking around with our heads low and sadness in our heart – yes we live in the world, but we do not have to be of the world.

They Know Their Masters Voice

When walking in the country lanes the little new born lamb was bleating then hurrying along came its mother and as she was by the little ones' side it suckled up to her and from the both of them the bleating stopped. What a delightful thing to see nature at its best the Creator in action.

Its little tail waggled to and fro as fast as it could to get to its mother's milk.

Now let us look at some lessons for us as children of God...

1. The little lamb knew its mother voice – (We know our Masters Voice)
2. As the little one cried out to its mother – (We cry out to our Father)
3. As the little one got to its mother milk - (We get our sustenance from our Creator)

How do we get sustenance from our Creator?

1. From The Word – The Bible
2. Listening for His Voice
3. Being with like-minded people – after all we each have an opinion and it is good to hear what other like-minded people have to say. We may not always agree, but we can listen.
